

BOOK OF J

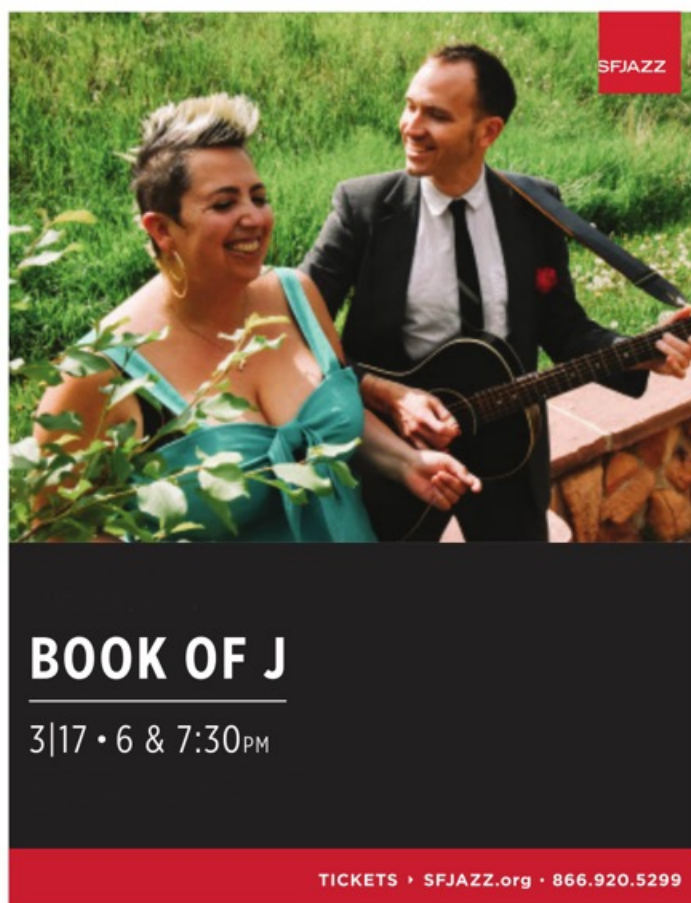

Dear Friends,

Springtime! Walt Whitman season! Book of J is at SF Jazz Sunday March 17.

We sound like...apocalyptic archivists of American music!

Buy tickets right now, bring your people!

Get Tickets to Book of J at SF Jazz

Book of J is Jewlia Eisenberg and Jeremiah Lockwood.

The New Yorker says: "The affecting, expansive musical landscape of Book of J encompasses gothic Yiddish songs, Piedmont blues, and queer politics. Both musicians have deep roots in Jewish music: Lockwood grew up singing in the High Holidays choir of his grandfather, a renowned cantor, while

Translate ▾

Eisenberg continues to lead the experimental, politically-minded Jewish vocal group Charming Hostess.”

The BBC says: “A wonder of haunted American roots music, taking listeners from Yiddish laments to labor anthems via mystical twists and turns.”

The Mercury-News says Book of J is “weird in all the best ways.”

Happy International Women's Day

Copyright © 2019 Charming Hostess, All rights reserved.

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.